FALL, DOHENYS AND SINCLAIR ARE INDICTED

GRAND JURY TAKES ACTION TO BRING OIL CASES UP FOR TRIAL

Four Indictments Are Returned By Capital Probers Today

ACCUSE FALL OF ACCEPTING BRIBE

Court Moves To Bring Four Defendants Before A Jury

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 30—Criminal indictments were returned by a federal grand jury today against Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny Sr., oil operators and E. L. Doheny Jr., as an outgrowth of the leasing of naval oil reserves.

Four indictments were returned. The first named Fall, Doheny, Sr., and Doheny Jr., charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the leasing of the California reserve. In the second Fall and Sinclair were accused of conspiring to defraud in connection with the Teapot Dome issue.

The third indictment charged Fall with accepting a bribe of $100,000 for using his official influence in the California lease in behalf of Doheny Sr.

The two Dohenys in the fourth indictment were charged with inducing Fall in behalf of the Pan-American Petroleum company, by the unlawful and felonious payment of $10,000 to take an unlawful action.

Secretary Fall, it was testified before the oil committee, was loaned $100,000 by Doheny and money was delivered in a satchel by Doheny Jr. Later Doheny obtained the lease to the Elks Hill reserve in California.

Sinclair obtained the Teapot Dome Wyoming reserve without competitive bidding.

The indictments served to start the government's criminal cases in the oil imbroglio. Civil suits already have been begun by Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special counsel appointed to conduct the prosecution.

BAND TO MEET

Members of the Albany-Decatur concert band are expected to meet the director, Prof. H. B. Marston Monday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the rooms of the chamber of commerce.

Band To Play Tonight At The Malone Tank

The Albany-Decatur Concert band under the direction of H. B. Marston is appearing tonight in concert at the Malone pool from the hours of 7:30 until 9:30. The band played at the tank on last Sunday evening and their work was enjoyed by the large crowd present.

The big pool was emptied and scrubbed Saturday night and a fresh flow of water run into the reservoir. Other interesting features will add to the amusement of the spectators and swimmers tonight. It is thought that the new filtering plant will be installed early this week. Part of the equipment is on hand now and other shipment has been made and is expected today.

A large crowd of baseball fans saw the double bill between the Alabama Power company team and the Louisville and Nashville Shop teams and the Albany-Decatur Daily versus the Decatur Cornice and Roofing company at Malone Park Saturday afternoon although the score will indicate that the teams were not evenly matched. The games were interesting. The Power company boys trounced the Eliens team by a score of 12 to 1. Nelson, pitching for the Power company allowed only four hits, striking out six men. He was given wonderful support by his team mates. The Alabama Power company secured seventeen hits off of Meyer who did the tosing for the L. & N. team. Banks and Haslett gathered three hits each. The Power company had the advantage due to the fact that they have played for several weeks and have a seasoned team. This was the first game for the L. & N. team and with a good coach they can be whipped into a first class machine.

In the second game the Albany-Decatur Daily ran up a 14 to 2 score over the Decatur Cornice and Roofing company team.

Bloodworth, pitching for the Daily allowed only seven hits while his team mates connected eleven bingles off of Free and Odom of the Cornice and Roofing Company team. This game also showed that the team with a group of veteran players were the masters of a team of rookies. Contracts are in the hands of the managers of every team and the games this week will be better played, because of additional players being signed.

The next game in the Industrial League will be played Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The Decatur Cornice and Roofing company will meet the Alabama Power company.

The umpires for Saturday's games were Sorber, Britnell and Richardson.

LOCAL PLANT NOW WORKS OVERTIME ON STEEL ORDERS

Night Shift Is Employed By The Company On Construction Job

STEEL GLIRDERS ARE BEING BUILT

Big Ten Story Hotel At Florida Resort Uses Local Product

The Decatur Cornice and Roofing company on Second street, West Albany, is now being forced to work overtime forces, in an effort to keep up with orders. One of the big orders now being filled by the company is for the steel to build a 10 story hotel at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The bright fire lights seen at night are red hot rivets thrown through the air for 50 feet by the rivet heater to the riveters.

W. R. Johnson, superintendent of the Decatur Cornice and Roofing company, explained that modern hotels were now built almost entirely of steel as to their walls. He said the brick and concrete used are only "filling matter" to round out the building, and to protect its steel body.

Mr. Johnson explained that just as some woodworking plants, "sized" lumber to suit builders of wooden buildings, so his company "sized" steel to suit the convenience of steel structure builders. He stated that the plans for building were sometimes made by his company and that at other times his company followed the designs of the men who proposed to erect new steel structures.

Steel girders 60 feet long, are made by the company and sometimes steel "timbers" 120 feet long have been constructed.

Mr. Johnson stated that twelve men, making up three working parties heat and place the rivets used to fasten the steel beams together.

In each party there is a rivet heater, who, when the rivet is the right heat throws it to his partner who catches it in a device made for that purpose. Then another man places the rivet and the fourth sees that it is properly bradded. Those who handle the red hot rivets become as expert with them as baseball players do with the horsehide, stated Mr. Johnson.

Sale Of Tickets To Charity Game Good

Reports at the Sunday morning meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Bible class as to the sale of tickets for the Bible Class-Kiwanis baseball game the Fourth, indicated that the two organizations are running neck and neck as to which can dispose of the most tickets for the charity event. It is expected that 3,000 tickets will be sold between now and when the game is called Friday afternoon at the Malone park.

Reports made by Thomas Hodson as to the number present at the class showed that the "white" color bearers led the "blue" badge company by a comfortable majority.

Rev. Noble R. Edwards, the teacher, spoke to the class stressing the lessons connected with the visit of Peter to the house of Cornelius, the Roman centurion who was converted to Christianity.

FIRST BLOOM HERE, AS WEATHER HELPS TO MATURE COTTON

Fred Patterson Brings In First Bloom Of The New Crop

NO WEEVILS ARE IN THE FIELDS YET

If Weather Conditions Stays Good, Early Picking Predicted

The first cotton bloom of the season is here. Fred Patterson who is farming on land of the land company, near Oklahoma, brought in the bloom today. It was grown within a few miles of the heart of the city.

The recent very favorable weather conditions have been a great help to the early planted cotton, Mr. Patterson said, explaining that his cotton was planted on April 9.

He stated that recently a yardstick was placed beside one stalk of cotton on the farm. The date and hour, Tuesday, June 22 at one p.m., was remembered. Saturday, June 26, at 10 a.m., the yardstick and the stalk were examined and it was revealed the cotton had grown two and one quarter inches within the time which had elapsed.

"If everyone had planted their cotton early in April there would be bumper cotton crops this fall I believe," Mr. Patterson declared. "So far I have found no weevils in my fields and my cotton is knee high now. This morning I found several blooms opening and if favorable weather continues, I believe I will be picking by the last part of August, or the first week in September."

"Weather conditions for the past few weeks have been particularly good for the growth of the cotton crop. We have had so many days when showers arrived late in the afternoon or early in the evening. The nights have not been too cool and the days have been sunshiny and hot. Aided by these natural stimulants, the crop has fairly raced up. I have seen some splendid stands this spring."

Deaths During June Numerous

Deaths in this section during the month of June in this section, records show, were numerous. One undertaking establishment showed a record of 28 deaths of people whose bodies were prepared for burial at its house.

J. G. Hampton, a highly respected man of Moulton route 2, died recently at the extreme age of 89. Mr. Hampton died very suddenly, the end coming a few minutes after he was taken with a sinking spell. The funeral was held at the late residence of the deceased with interment at the Ball Knob cemetery.

"The Lend-A-Hand" Bible class of the First Methodist church, of which W. W. Callahan is the teacher, has elected the following officers for the next six months period: John C. White, president; J. B. Harlow, vice president; Cole Holesapple, secretary; W. E. Roper, treasurer.

PLATFORM FINALLY AGREED ON AFTER HARD CONVENTION FIGHT

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 30—The platform was perfected at 2 o'clock Sunday day morning, when amid scenes of confusion seldom paralleled in party history, a plank condemning the Ku Klux Klan by name was pronounced rejected by the narrow margin of a single vote. Another serious contest had been decided previously by adoption of a plank reaffirming in general terms only the party's faith in the League of Nations.

The convention's action on the all-absorbing question of the Klan apparently had no effect on the relative standing of the candidates, except as it provided a further argument for use by those who are predicting that neither McAdoo nor Smith can be nominated. The out-and-out anti-Klan plank, according to permanent chairman Walsh's announcement, received 541 votes with the active supporters of Governor Smith and many others friendly to him voting for it, while 542 votes were announced as cast against it, largely from the states that are giving their support to Mr. McAdoo.

The totals of the vote as actually cast by states and territories however, and as verified on recapitulation today shows that 546 and 15-100 votes were cast against singling out the Klan by name and that 542 and 55-100 votes were cast in favor of it. This actually increases the majority to a 430-100 votes instead of the one single vote as given in the official announcement.

ELOQUENT ADDRESS DELIVERED BY VISITING EVANGELIST HERE

"America, Goal Of History" Subject Of Dr. Violette's Inspiring Talk.

In the course of an eloquent and inspiring address at the First Christian church Sunday afternoon on "America, the Goal of History" Dr. E. E. Violette, formerly Near East correspondent for a newspaper syndicate, and now general evangelist of the Christian church, said that in a conference at Washington a few years ago, he sat by H. G. Wells, and saw him write that civilization was rapidly moving made an end of themselves. Babylon made "glory" its ideal and died, Assyria exalted strength; Media trusted "laws"; Persia tried "skill"; Macedonia under Alexander the Great, put "courage" first; the Carthaginians were for "wealth"; the Egyptians worshiped "wisdom"; the Greeks sought "beauty" and "pleasure"; the Romans "power;" and finally the Germans placed "might" first. The speaker described in perfectly chosen words, the fall of all civilizations that had trusted, as have all the nations of the past.

Dr. Violette said that while he did not accept Wells' position in toto, that since "the church is just playing at the job of making a Christian civilization" and since Mr. Wells is an unbeliever, he could appreciate why the famous writer believed as he did.

Dr. Violette said that while he did not accept Wells' position in toto, that since "the church is just playing at the job of making a Christian civilization" and since Mr. Wells is an unbeliever, he could appreciate why the famous writer believed as he did.

Dr. Violette said the words of Wells were: "Humanity is on a rapidly sinking ship, and civilization is rapidly moving to destruction."

Dr. Violette said he asked Wells, how he could pronounce such a severe verdict, but that the big Englishman only replied for answer: "Are not my words true?"

Dr. Violette said that no guarantee existed against America following "to dust and death" the so-called great civilizations of the past. He said America was civilization's final goal on this earth, and that if Americans failed the future was black.

He declared that despite the "deep lack of interest in human welfare" in America, "that ours is the one safe land and ours the one going government."

Lack of Cooperation Scored.

At an asylum, Dr. Violette suggested to a warden, "what if that squad of insane men, should agree to kill you?" to which the warden replied, "no danger, because they could not agree on anything is why they are here."

The national conventions of the two great parties were scored by the speaker for "political treachery" and he predicted that in four years time an "American Party" would be made up of the sincere and earnest of both the old parties that would win the national elections. He said parties had done nothing of late years; and that what had been done of good was over their protests by such great men as Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt.

World Failure.

The speaker declared that men had been defeating God's will that was not right for God to do was not right for men. He said that so-called great nations had made "by-products," and selfishness ends and had therefore

McAdoo Leads Field Easily On The First Of The Roll Calls

FIRST BALLOTING IS VERY ORDERLY

Resolutions Adopted Pay A Tribute To Pres. Harding

The convention, after taking nine ballots adjourned until eight o'clock, without breaking the deadlock. On the ninth ballot, McAdoo led the field with Smith second; Cox third, Davis fourth and Underwood fifth.

(Associated Press)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, N.Y., June 30—The democratic national convention found no candidate on its first ballot today. On the unofficial figures, McAdoo's total on the first ballot ran up to 431 1-2 and Smith's total on the first ballot ran up to 240 1-2. How far those figures reported maximum or minimum strength, no one could determine.

The remainder of the voting was scattered among the other candidates in the entire field of 16 with two added starters, Houston Thompson of Colorado, and Senator Kendrick, of Wyoming.

There was nothing notable in the voting on the first ballot. It was quiet and orderly and almost without the feeling of tension that goes with the first test of strength in a national convention.

The convention got to balloting without any recurrence of the disorder of Saturday over the Klan issue and reports that there was to be an attempt to reopen that subject melted away. Official total, first ballot.

Total number of votes cast: Underwood 42 1-2; Robinson 21; McAdoo 431 1-2; Sweet 12; Brown 17; Smith 240 1-2; Saulsbury 12; Silver 38; John W. Davis 31; Ritchie 22-12; Harrison 43 1-2; Cox 59; Bryan 18; Ralston 30; Johnathan Davis 20; Ferris 30; Glass 25; Thompson 1; Kendrick 8.

After the announcement of the official ballot, W. J. Bryan got unanimous consent to present a resolution in memory of the late President Harding. He moved its adoption and it was done with a rising vote. Then the roll call went into second ballot.

The second ballot in the democratic national convention today showed little change from the first. All the native sons, dark horses, stood solid throughout. The only change of note was that Louisiana switched her 20 from Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, to Senator Robinson of Arkansas. The relative positions of Smith and McAdoo were unchanged in the second ballot. The total for the second ballot was as follows: Underwood 42; McAdoo 431; Robinson 41; Sweet 12; Smith 251 1-2; Brown 12 1-2; Saulsbury 6; Cox 61; Silver 30; Bryan 18; John W. Davis 32; Ritchie 21 1-2; Harrison 23 1-2; Johnathan Davis 23; Walsh 1; Ralston 30.</

Blood poisoning, said to have followed the prick of a nail, claimed the life of little John Luther McLemore, two and one-half years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McLemore, of Cartwright, near Athens about midnight Sunday. The child was at a local hospital when death came. He was brought here for an operation last week from his home in Limestone County, where on June 20, a nail is said to have entered his foot. The child was playing about the house when what proved to be the fatal accident occurred. The remains of the deceased were taken to the home of his parents today.

The Puzzling Query That Sorely Perplexed Madge.

"YOU mean," said Harry Underwood quickly, "that you'd like me to 'stand at thy right hand and keep the bridge with thee' during the coming interview with our dear Mamie's aunt?"

I saw that my procrastination was of no avail. I could not bring him into Lillian's presence without giving both of them the chance to avoid the meeting if they wished.

"Now, I don't mean exactly that," I said slowly, trying to couch my words carefully. "I should very much like to have you make sure that Mamie is safely landed in the apartment."

"Well, then," he interrupted impatiently, "why the hesitation? You know I'm at your service, now and forever. E Pluribus Unum, hang together or hang separately!"

"It isn't that," I struck in laughing in spite of my anxiety.

"What is it, then? For the love of Lulu, spill what's on your mind! I shan't be able to drive a foot further if I don't find out."

His exaggerated falsetto tone made me laugh again, but I smothered it quickly. The person relieving us had come to my sister's nerves, was not getting me any nearer the inevitable explanation. With sudden courage I cut the Gordian knot swiftly.

"Lillian is at the apartment," I said quietly.

He made no slightest gesture of astonishment, but the car shot forward in accelerated speed, and for five minutes he did not speak, nor, of course, did I. Then he slowed the car, and without looking at me, began talking with no trace of his usual flippancy.

"You've Got Me Wrong."

"Look here, Lady Fair," he said. "I think you've got me wrong on this subject. You don't need to prepare me for anything with Lili. I'll admit I didn't get up a little bit of dirt when I lit out that time—and she doesn't deserve anything but the best out of life—but did you even stop to consider that my getting out of the way was just about the greatest thing that ever happened to her?"

He paused, evidently waiting for an answer. An affirmative one was

THE HOME KITCHEN

How You Can Make the Delicious Most of Fruits in Season

By JEANNETTE YOUNG NORTON
The Authority on Home Cooking

FRUITS in season make the most acceptable desserts, whether cooked, uncooked or in the form of frozen dishes. Fruit cocktails, soups, pies, cobblers, tarts, ices, frozen fruits and ice creams provide a wide range for the use of fruits, while markets and home gardens yield a generous supply for our use.

Almost all diets include fruit in some form, so fruit dishes are usually very welcome. Fruit should be carefully washed or rinsed before preparing it in any way for table use. Only perfect fruit should be chosen, fully matured and ripe but not soft or over-ripe. Small fruits with hard seeds like gooseberries, blackberries and currants are pleasant when cooked in some form, but when they are strained and made into quick jellies, raspberry seeds are more tender, and so not as objectionable.

Strawberry Dumplings.

Mix two cupsfuls of flour with four level teaspoonsfuls of baking powder. Cut in a heaping tablespoonful of butter and add a cupful and a half of rich milk, then work the mixture to a smooth dough. Wash, top and chop coarsely, a basket of strawberries and sprinkle them generously with sugar, roll out the dough then cut it in squares. Fill each square with berries and new dough at the top, dumpling fashion. Lay the dumplings on a floured plate and place them in the steamer. Let the dumplings steam three-quarters of an hour. Add to the remainder of the berries, a cupful of sugar and a half cupful of water. Let them cook gently for five to ten minutes, then set them aside to use hot as sauce for the dumplings.

Apple Fritters with Currant Sauce.

Make the usual fritter batter and to it a cupful and a half of well-washed applesauce. Add a little grated nutmeg and a tablespoonful of vanilla and fry it in hot fat. Wash, stem and stew in a pint of water, a full quart of fresh, ripe currants. When they are soft, put them through a strainer. To a pint of this juice, add a half pint of sugar. Boil, gently, and skim this juice, and when the syrup is beginning to be thick, add to it a little butter and flour rubbed to a paste. Strain the sauce into a sauceboat when it is ready to serve.

Rhubarb and Pineapple Pie.

Wash and cut up rhubarb enough to make four cupsfuls. Cover it with boiling water and boil it three minutes, then drain. Line two small pie-plates with good pie-crust. Add a cupful of sugar and a can of grated pineapple to the rhubarb and fill the pie with the mixture. Dredge the top with a little flour, dot it with a little butter and put on the top crusts. Bake the pie as usual.

Frozen Strawberries.

Wash and clean a quart of fresh berries. Add two cupfuls of sugar and let the berries soak gently for eight minutes. When they are cool, add a pint of cream, the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and a few drops of red coloring matter. There are several kinds of coloring that are perfectly harmless and give a pink tinge to the mass. Freeze as usual and let it stand a half hour to ripen, then serve the ice cream.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT Guests and Eavesdroppers

Copyright, 1924, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

HERE'S a letter that made me laugh—and then it made me wonder. I wonder how you'll feel about it.

DEAR WINIFRED BLACK:

I have had many guests in my home and but one acted the part of a lady. She is a school chum of mine.

The rest—all intelligent, grown-up folks, made me a nightmare to me. So much so, I have registered a vow that all outside of relatives are barred from my home as long as I live. Here are a few examples:

A bright young remark is made that the plumber is expected. My guest comes and tells me she is going to be back for the rest of the afternoon. An hour later I rush upstairs to see what progress the plumber has made and there sits the guest in the next room. She starts going in and out, all the time noting what is done and what is yet to be done till the work is finished.

She is given the key to save me trouble for I do all my work. She had a way of holding the latch back so as to get in and out without making a click. I wouldn't hear her until I felt her breath as she leaned over my shoulder.

I'd rather live in the house with a Philippine headhunter or a McLeay savage—or any other sort of brutish aborigine than to live under the same roof with an eavesdropper and a peekaboo and a Meddling Mattie.

Inquisitive, meddlesome, interfering—what a mess they do make of things, these poor, pin-headed, prying, peering creatures who are always so crazy to know things that do not concern them!

I don't blame the woman who wrote this letter a particle, but I do hope she won't commit murder—eavesdroppers are not worth as much trouble as that.

This is a sample of several I have had in my home. It made me nervous.

If I ever should commit murder an eavesdropper will be the victim.

AN ADMIRER AND CONSTANT READER.

"You Don't Care, Do You?"

Now tell me true and cross your heart while you're telling it, what would you do if you had a visitor like that?

I'm afraid I'd walk in my sleep and take her by the hand and lead her right out of the house into the cold, cruel world, and perhaps she'd be so scandalized that she'd pack up and go and make no fuss about it.

Whatever do they find so interesting in other people's affairs—these eavesdroppers and listeners and peekaboo?

What on earth did the visitor want in the room when the plumber was there? Most people flee from the plumber and his works as they would flee from the pesthouse. Maybe she was going to have some plumbing done herself and wanted to know about rates and things. Why not ask and be done with it?

And oh, the pocketbook—well, if I had a guest who looked into my pocketbook to see how much money I had, she wouldn't be my guest very long after that.

And as for the letter—there's only one thing to do with a person who reads other people's letters and that thing is to send them to Coventry once and for all.

I knew a woman once who read other people's letters. She read one of mine—a harmless, friendly little letter from a harmless, friendly little woman, and the woman who wrote the letter thought she was talking to me and to me alone, and she told some of her

A Few Common-Sense Aids to Beauty

By LUCREZIA BORI

The Famous Spanish Prima Donna

ANY woman who is brimming over with life and vitality is attractive.

Think over your friends; you must realize that you gain more real enjoyment out of being with someone who is full of vigor and life than with someone who is lifeless and dull and lacking in vitality.

The latter type is so likely to spend much time in explaining about how devoid of vigor she feels. Do you ever find yourself guilty of this same critical judgment?

I ask this because it's such a common fault for so many women—make themselves far more tired simply by complaining about the way they feel. After all, much of our feeling is mental. If you let your mind rest upon your tiredness, you will feel more tired. If you forget about it or set about in a sensible way to overcome it, you will be so busy in this pursuit that you actually will not have time to dwell upon your feeling of tiredness.

And if you do feel this way, too easily or too often, you must admit the only sensible thing is to set about to overcome this condition. If you build up your health in a rational way you need never feel tired except at the end of a long, active, happy day.

Women, especially for women who have to live in the city, to complain that they do not have a chance to care for their health as they could if they lived out in the country.

My dears, this is simply an excuse. You can care for your health properly anywhere if you will—the will is the first necessary ingredient. After that, the other steps are easy.

For instance, do you really make an effort to get in your regular amount of walking each day?

It is constant temptation in the city to hop upon a street car, or take a conveyance which will take you where you want to go in a very short time. It takes more time and planning to start early enough to walk the distance—but it is well worth while.

You should insist upon your regular walk each day. Walk briskly and with determination, for the exercise does you much more good if it means sufficient exertion to induce a slight perspiration.

Another thing, you should insist upon your full amount of green vegetables each day. These are so much more conductive to a smooth, clear skin and a bright eye than all the medicines you could take!

Perhaps your family requires a larger amount of meats and fatty foods than you really want for yourself. Now, you should learn not to eat things simply because they are placed before you. Take a small piece of the meat when you want it, but insist upon your salad even if you have to prepare it especially for yourself. For salads and fresh vegetables and apples are the things that bring beauty and vitality in their wake.

Answers to Health Questions

MRS. L. J. R. Q.—Is it harmful to a child's health to let her wear thin stockings and light underwear in cold weather. Winter or Summer?

My eleven-year-old daughter is anxious to dress as her friends do.

A.—You must use your own judgment in this matter. If she is a robust child she probably would not be harmed. Active children can endure anything.

E. M. Q.—I am a young man of nineteen years of age, troubled with pains in my arms and limbs. When I turn them certain ways they seem to get stiff and draw up as if they were a bleach.

To the stomach of the undigested food and accumulated gas.

To this end give bicarbonate of soda (baking soda), tepid salt water, weak mustard water—anything to produce vomiting.

Then give a stimulant like brandy, aromatic spirits of ammonia or strong coffee.

This treatment will stop the pain and, given promptly, may save a life, and your doctor—who you should call at once—will do the rest.

New York Letter

Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, June 28—Doormen at Coney Island hotels come in large sizes. It has been deemed important that they should be stalwart because sometimes, however, exclusive. The place, the Coney Island atmosphere does get excited and it is well to have some one fit to keep order. Max Saunders, one of these head footmen, is six feet two inches tall and weighs 198 pounds. He could well intimidate any fractious person. Mrs. Ada Viola, on the other hand, is a bit over five feet and weighs around 119 in her heavy summer furs. Nevertheless in Coney Island court, she has been charged with felonious assault, the plaintiff being Max. He had told her not to park her auto in front of the hotel. When according to Mrs. Viola "He became fresh about it." So she stepped out of her car and walloped him on the point of his chin. Max saw stars and took the count. Magistrate Brown looked incredulous over the testimony but when Mrs. Viola refused to deny it, he had to admit its possibilities.
Neighbors of the winner of the dispute say that she never took a boxing lesson in her life. Max says she doesn't need too.Two Russian princes and a princess who before the fall of the Czar owned estates worth at least ten millions arrived this week in the acreage of the President Harding. Prince Engelitcheff is a portrait painter and hopes to follow that bent here. He is one of the oldest families in Russia. His wife is with him. The other prince was Eugene Dolgorovery, a relative of the late Czar, who escaped death at the hands of the Bolsheviks and has come here to live with his son and daughters, who fled to this country early in the post-war days.Arch Selwyn, who has just returned from Europe, has gathered a group of stars for our next season's stage from practically every country in the world.
He has engaged Aaquel Meller, the Spanish singing-tradient, about whom we have heard so much. Grock, the famous Swiss clown, Ratouché's Russian Lilliputians, Joan Nash, known as "the best-dressed woman in the world," and the Patou manikins wearing $50,000 worth of Batou's latest creations, Maurice and Hugo, and a chorus comprised of girls from every nation on earth.When the taxi drivers were first ordered to cease "cruising" on Fifth avenue, we understood it was because of the necessity of lightening the traffic there. Now it seems it had something to do with entirely other matters.
Or else a shaved chauffeur takes up less room than an unshaved one.
For the fuss between the operators and the police has been settled, and one item of the settlement is that the drivers promised to keep them selves cleanly shaved and neatly clothed and not smoke while waiting for fares.There still remains some reverence in our political life. Photographers wanted to snap two pretty girls perching on the rail of the speakers' platform in Madison Square Garden, before the democratic convention had arrived to occupy the place. "Ah, no," said the custodian, "you must not thus profane the place where they are going to nominate a president of the United States."TAKE

GOV. W. L. FLYNN, SEN. AUSTIN, SEN. POWERS & LIEUT. GOV. TOUPIN & RHODE ISLAND CAPITOL

Although the Democrats carried the State of Rhode Island, the Republicans held a majority in the Senate because of an old law which allows all cities one Senator. In a filibuster led by Lieutenant-Governor Toupin to change the law, the feeling became so bitter poison gas was emitted in the Senate Chamber in the Capitol. Governor William L. Flynn ordered arrests, but the culprits were not found. Senator Fred Austin, of Smithfield, and Senator John Powers, of Cumberland, are shown in conference with Lieutenant-Governor Toupin in an unsuccessful effort to end the filibuster.

Lightning Strikes At Wilder Place

Lightning destroyed a large plantation barn on the Wilder place, near the Twin Cities, Sunday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, the loss amounting to thousands of dollars. The barn was the property of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Edmundson.

The Cleffer Brothers, well known men of this section, were severely shocked by the lightning, it being near the barn when the bolt struck.

Three negroes, Ed Jackson, Neely Green, and Ben Pepper, were also shocked by the lightning. Pepper was close to the barn looking after an automobile of Captain and Mrs. Edmundson when he was shocked.

Accompanied by Neely Green, Ed Jackson was on his way to milk the cows at the barn when the lightning struck it. Jackson and others managed to get the cows out of the barn and save them with ease; but when it came to saving two mules that were in the barn, difficulties arose as the animals sought to get back to their home, although it was blazing.

The mules were finally saved as was a hay press that had been left in the barn.

The biggest loss, excepting the building itself, was the large amount of feed stuff stored in the barn, it was stated. Reports are to the effect that some insurance was carried on the barn.

At 3 o'clock tomorrow the management of this store will leave for a two weeks trip to the world's largest furniture market at Chicago and Grand Rapids, where more than one thousand manufacturers are displaying the newest and most up-to-date designs in house furnishings.

The management expects to do the largest buying that this store has ever done and will have the most complete stock of new and up to date furniture ever displayed in Albany.

TO MAKE ROOM FOR THESE NEW GOODS we are going to offer bargains at our store during the two weeks of buying. You can get what you want at our store during the next two weeks and at a right price either cash or credit. 20 per cent is the discount for the next two weeks and the usual 10 per cent in addition for cash if you prefer to pay cash.

Many Albany and Decatur ladies have asked us to select new and special design furniture for them while at the market. If there is some thing special you wish, just call Mr. Proctor tomorrow before three P.M. Your selection will be made and your purchase will be at a small margin of profit. Mr. Proctor extends this courtesy to any lady in a trading radius of Albany.

Don't Worry.

Eight-tenths of the misgivings wishes are due to something real, the eight-tenths of the reality is the reality.

Eight-tenths of the reality is the reality.
